Roguard® Elite

The striking feature of the Elite is it doesn't look like a Rat Box! Roguard® Elite has been purposely designed to look like a common pipe or ducting rather than a typical bait box. For the image conscious client or where bait stations are needed to be placed in the public view Roguard® Elite is much more discreet.

The three cornerstones for the design of this product are the features that matter most to professional pest controllers.

Safety

With built in camouflage, sturdy construction and numerous ways to secure it in place the Roguard® Elite is inconspicuous and tamper resistant.

Ease Of Use

Multifunctional - The Roguard® Elite can be used in a variety of situations, whether your control programme requires loose bait, block baits, liquids or traps the Elite has been manufactured to facilitate all possibilities.

Plus, because the cover comes off completely the baits inside can be very easily accessed, the optional record label can be applied on the inside of the cover and therefore easily filled in. Internal cleaning couldn't be easier either with removable tray and fully openable entrance tunnels.

Efficacy

Based on the proven design of the pipe, recognised for many years as a shape rodents find attractive to enter and feed in.

Roguard® Elite also offers you the opportunity to enhance its attractiveness further:

The bait tray provided has a main large chamber where the bait is normally laid, however, bait can also be positioned in the smaller chamber meaning the rat actually runs across the food source encouraging it to feed.

Roguard® Elite has specially designed deeply ribbed and roughened entrance tunnels. This helps the rats to grip the tunnel floors and also gives you the opportunity to rub damp earth into the grooves creating a more natural feel and smell, to further encourage rat entry.
